ARCHAEOLOGY FOR THE CURIOUS

Join Us! Saturday May 18, 2013 8 am - 4 pm Redmond City Hall

A PUBLIC OUTREACH INITIATIVE BY THE CITY OF REDMOND

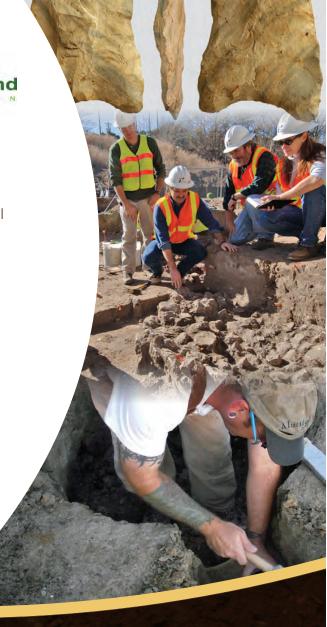

Experts from Washington State Department of Transportation, Department of Archaeology and Historic Preservation, Muckleshoot, Snoqualmie and Stillaguamish Tribes, and SWCA Environmental Consultants will make presentations.

MORNING SESSION: Archaeology basics, getting involved with archaeology as a citizen

AFTERNOON SESSION: What Redmond was like 10,000 years ago, local history of the Bear Creek site, and hands-on activities

RSVP to BearCreek@redmond.gov or call 425.556.2723

All material will be provided Refreshments will be provided Lunch on your own

Register by May 17 , 2013 To register and request additional information please contact:

Michael Haley, PE (425) 556-2843 mhaley@redmond.gov

Redmond Cultural Resources Workshop – May 18, 2013

8:00 – Coffee, Etc.

8:30 – Welcome/Invocation (Mike Haley, Redmond; Steven Mullen-Moses Snoqualmie Tribe)

8:45 – 9:30 – Archaeology 101 in 45 minutes or Less – Steve Archer, Scott Williams (Washington State Department of Transportation)

9:30 – 10:00 – Citizen Involvement in Cultural Resources and Historic Preservation: Matthew Sterner, Washington State Department of Archaeology and Historic Preservation

10:00-10:15 Break

10:15-11:00 – Lithic Technology Demonstration – Scott Williams, WSDOT

11:00 – 11:45 – Paleoindian Period in Redmond and Western Washington 10,000 years ago: Ken Ames, Professor Emeritus Portland State University

11:45-1:15 – Lunch (on your own)

1:15 – 2:15 – Archaeology of the Bear Creek Site: Bob Kopperl (SWCA Environmental Consultants)

2:15-2:45 - Roundtable Discussion with Agency, Tribal, and Consultant Cultural Resources Staff

2:45-3:00 Break

3:00-4:00 – Stories of traditional life and resources: Warren KingGeorge, Muckleshoot Indian Tribe.

4:00 – Wrap-up: Mike Haley